ABOUT ME

I am a passionate content creator based in Essex, England, and I bring over a decade of freelancing experience to the table. I offer video and photographic services across various industries, and I'm committed to utilizing my skills and creative flair to bring concepts to life.

Highlighted in this Media Pack is examples of my still work, the quality & style I produce, services provided and pricings.

More of my video content can be found on YouTube & social media

SERVICES PROVIDED

I produce video content tailored for both social media use, feature-length films, aiming to deliver an immersive experience for the audience. In addition to this I also provide Corporate video content for marketing and house training as well as content for marketing purposes accross the board.

Additionally, I provide photographic services in the travel industry, corporate institutions, food & hospitality and the health & fitness sector.

All content is curated with great consideration to ensure maximum impact on web pages, social media, and other marketing platforms.

OPTIMISED CONTENT

I possess expertise not only in capturing content across diverse digital mediums but also in curating content tailored for optimal use on social media, websites, short-form promotional videos, and longer-form overview videos.

My experience extends to optimizing content for a range of establishments, including restaurants, accommodation sources, corporate institutions, automotive, activity providers etc.
